Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

Introduction

This statement is made pursuant to Section 54 of the Modern Slavery Act 2015. Although Construction Infinity is not legally required to publish a statement under the Act due to turnover being below the £36 million threshold, we are committed to preventing modern slavery and human trafficking within our business and supply chains.

Our Business

Construction Infinity Ltd is a construction company operating in the United Kingdom, providing services including internal fit-out, maintenance and repair works. We operate primarily within Southeast England region.

Our Commitment

We are committed to conducting our business ethically and with integrity. We have zero tolerance for modern slavery, forced labour, human trafficking, child labour, or exploitation of any kind.

Our Supply Chain

Our supply chain includes subcontractors, specialist trades, material suppliers, and service providers operating within the UK construction sector.

We seek to ensure that:

- All subcontractors operate in compliance with UK employment law.
- Workers have the right to work in the UK.
- Workers are paid in accordance with legal requirements.
- No forced, bonded, or involuntary labour is used.

Due Diligence and Controls

To mitigate risk within our operations and supply chain, we:

- Verify the identity and right-to-work status of workers.
- Require subcontractors to hold appropriate insurance and operate lawfully.
- Expect subcontractors to comply with UK health & safety and employment legislation.
- Reserve the right to terminate relationships where modern slavery risks are identified.

Training and Awareness

As a small business, formal training is delivered informally through management oversight. Directors and supervisors remain vigilant to indicators of modern slavery or exploitation and will act immediately if concerns arise.
